ST. JOSEPH ACADEMY WILL BUILD ADDITION FOR USE OF SCHOOL

Proposed Building Will Have Gymnasium and Auditorium
And Include Class Rooms—Plans Now Being Drawn—Permission Received.

St. Joseph Academy will build an addition, is the announcement made by the Mother Superior of the convent, who has received permission from headquarters for this forward step. Plans are being prepared by E. Spori, architect of New Orleans, and when completed will be announced, it was said.

The proposed building will be 100 by 110 feet, and will be located to the west of the north wing of the present building, across a driveway. It will include a gymnasium and auditorium which will be 70 x 90 feet. Adjoining this gymnasium there will be class rooms and the second story will be devoted to class rooms. The building is much needed by the convent to supply adequate room for the various activities of the school.

A number of gifts from friends have been received for the new building and the sisters will gratefully accept all gifts which are tendered for this purpose. It has been a vision for several years to see a new addition and after permission was received the Mother Superior discussed the project at the recent retreat of the order in New Orleans where it met with favorable approval.

All the sisters of the convent, who have been studying at Loyola University for the summer courses have returned to the convent. The sisters at the convent are occupied in study and are specially preparing for the new method for teaching children which was carried out so successfully last year.

The sister from the convent attended the annual retreat of the order of St. Joseph which was held at the provincial house in New Orleans and which closed August 1. There were 95 sisters in attendance at this retreat, coming from all convents of the order in this district.

School Opening.
Registration for students at the convent will be held September 6, 7, 9, and the boarders are expected to arrive on September 9, while classes begin Sept. 10. The pupils will be classified upon registration, receive their book lists, and all will be in readiness for the beginning of the school term on September 10.

The teachers next session will be practically the same as last year and the same Mother Superior will be in charge. The enrollment this year is expected to equal if not surpass that of last year and a fine session is anticipated.

CAR COLLISION

A collision occurred Monday at the intersection of Main and Touline streets between the car driven by John Adams who was going north across Main street and the car driven by Mrs. Freddie Choina which was traveling west on Main street, causing light damage to the cars but not injuring the occupants. Mr. Adams was assessed a fine of $5 for reckless driving by Mayor Traub, Sr., in city court.

Parked Car Struck.

A car in which Mrs. Dours of New Orleans had parked at the bridge headed west on the Old Spanish Trail awaiting the signal, was struck Friday of last week by a car driven by Miss Duncan, Gulfport nurse, which was making a north to east curve on the bridge. No one was injured, the large Dours car sustaining the shock of the small car driven by Miss Duncan. Fenders of the two cars were damaged. Miss Duncan was fined in city court by Mayor Traub, Sr., for reckless driving.

Return From Motor 1 ip.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sellier, daughter, Miss Irene Sellier of Bay St. Louis and Mrs. Sellier's niece, Miss Lottie Cuevas of Fenton, have returned from a delightful week's motor trip which included Meridian, Birmingham, Chattanooga, Nashville, Memphis, Vicksburg and Natchez. They enjoyed a visit to Wonder Cave and Jewel Cave near Mont Eagle, Tenn. Historic and interesting points were visited all along the route. The weather was ideal and cool enough in the mountains for coats. The party especially enjoyed the mountains of Tennessee and Alabama. They drove a new car and had no trouble, and they found the roads fine.

AGED SISTER AT ST. JOSEPH'S IS ACTIVE AND HAPPY

Sister St. Clotilde, 84 Years
Old, Enjoys Working Her
Flower Garden

An inspiring sight to those who pass St. Joseph's Academy in the afternoon is the vision of Sister St. Clotilde, who is seen working among her flower beds where her dear hands prepare the beds for planting and care for and prune the plants, weeding and taking the grass away from the flowers so they may flourish. She takes her chair and seated leans forward to work her flower beds, placing her weeds and grass in a basket for removal.

This beloved sister is nearing 85 years of age and 60 of those years have been spent at St. Joseph's Academy in Bay St. Louis. She is a native of New Orleans and after taking the veil of St. Joseph's order came to Bay St. Louis in 1866 and here she has resided except for three years away at other convents of the order. She has been connected with the domestic side of the convent life and her many duties have been beautifully and cheerfully transacted.

For the past several years her strength has not been sufficient for constant occupation and during that time she has devoted much time and love to flowers. It has been her joy to keep the shrine of the Blessed Virgin dressed with flowers.

The Mother Superior of her convent paid her a glowing compliment recently when she said, "Her life is a model of how to make old age pleasant." The sisters at the convent are devoted to her as are many of the townspeople and students who have known her.

Her gracious presence is a benediction to the convent which has been her home so many active years.

AUTHORIZE SUIT TO BE FILED

City Will Sue County For Ad
Valorem Road Taxes In Test Suit.

The city commissioners at the regular meeting Monday were engaged with three matters of importance, namely the approval of the assessment roll, the authorization for filing a suit against the county, and the completion of matters pertaining to the removal of the negro Methodist church.

The board has been occupied for some weeks making a revision of the assessment rolls which are now completed.

Will Sue County.

The city commissioners authorized a suit to be filed against Hancock county for the sum of $12,755.00, half of the ad valorem taxes collected by the county in the municipality of Bay St. Louis for road purposes. The suit arises from a failure on the part of the county to pay this sum into the treasury of the city of Bay St. Louis, and is an agreed friendly suit between the city and county to test the case.

It is understood that since the passage of a law by the State legislature in 1920 which states in chapter 232, laws of 1920, "That one-half of the ad valorem taxes collected by or for a county or a separate or a special road district operating under any laws of the state, or property within a municipality, the streets of which are worked at the expense of the municipal treasury, or worked by municipal authority, for road purposes of such county or district, not including taxes for the purpose of paying bonds issued for road purposes or the interest thereon or for creating a sinking fund for retiring the same, shall be paid over to the treasurer of such municipality for said municipality," that Hancock county has paid to the city the half of the ad valorem taxes collected in Bay St. Louis for road purposes, but that this year the county has refused to pay the tax money. The city has made petition or Local business men report that this fall will see good business in Bay St. Louis. It will, if every citizen will remember to trade here in preference to far away points.

SUPPORT LOCAL MERCHANTS.

With the approach of fall, the best trading period of the year, is at hand. Bay St. Louis merchants have their stocks well filled, they have gone to distant markets and invested their money on the chance that they can guess what their trade wants and on the belief that the people of Bay St. Louis, before buying elsewhere will, at least, visit them to inspect their offerings.

All that local merchants can ask from local buyers is that they be given an opportunity to sell their wares. They should not, and do not, expect anyone to pay them three dollars where two dollars will buy the same thing. In fact, the slight savings which some people think they made by trading through the mail is very often imaginary.

Men and women in Bay St. Louis can try this out for themselves. All that they have to do is to visit the local business houses and give them a chance to meet competition. However, be fair. Pay cash and do not expect extras that never go with a mail order price. These include various forms of clever service and assistance, but they are the strong assets of buying at home. No mail package ever brought them into Bay St. Louis.

A MOTHER DIES OF JOY.

While her two sons, in the United States, worked to be able to bring her to this country, Mrs. Romona de Nunez, of Venezuela, waited ten years for the glad tidings that she would at last be united with her boys.

The other day they were at the pier in New York to welcome her. She died of excitement as the ship came within sight of the Statue of Liberty, when her dream was at hand.

How often do men plot and plan, only to discover the futility of earthly power. The sons and their mother are now separated by a gulf that no boat can cross, and which science, with all intelligence, has been unable to fathom.

HERE'S A YOUNG HERO!

This is to sing praise of Harold Weltick, thirteen years old, of Long Island, N. Y., who, playing in his rear doorway, heard a mother, upstairs, scream.

Booking into the air, he saw five year old Emily Donoghue falling towards the stone courtyard. He leaped forward, planted his legs firmly, and caught her in his arms, as both of them hurtled to the pavement.

Besides a few bruises neither was hurt. The quick thinking youngster saved the girl's life. Unlike fairy stories she was not a princess, and they will probably never marry, but that doesn't mean that this young fellow won't make a splendid man when he gets older, which is better than marrying a princess.

WHERE IS THE SMARTEST BOY?

The Edison test for the smart boy to follow in his footsteps, and become his successor, attracted a great amount of attention in the press. It was interesting, largely because everybody feels that the committee didn't have a ghost of a chance.

The successor of Thomas A. Edison, for all that human brains can tell, may be chopping wood in some mountain wilderness, or plowing the soil or tilling the crops on some barren farm land. For as that the committee could do, and its choice is surely a fine young American, the best brains in the youth of this country, may be in Hancock county.

A HOT SLICE OF PIE.

Our super-special slice of pie for this week has to be awarded to George C. Jewett, banker, of Chicago, who breaks into the public prints with the statement that "there never was a time when financial people had greater confidence in American agriculture than they have at present."

That listens well, but what the average farmer of Hancock county wants to know is whether the confidence in the farmer means anything when he requires a little cash to help operate his farm.

RELIEVING THE COURTS.

Jack, a valuable Airdale dog, accused of sheep killing in Fayette county, Ky., was brought into court to answer the charge, with his life at stake.

The case dragged out in court, as lawyers understand, but the other day, a farmer, hearing a disturbance among his sheep, fired three shots, killing Jack and his mother.

It begins to look like there is one way for an alert citizen to establish the facts, even when courts fail.

JUST LIKE BURNING MONEY.

The unusual dry weather of the present summer has added to the number of forest fires, annually caused by lightning, careless smokers and other contributing causes.

Somewhat, it seems hard to make the average man and woman understand that we are losing valuable wealth every year through these fires. It is even difficult to persuade Hancock county farmers, in some instances, that it is folly to apply the torch to their own woodlands.

HONEST, CANDID, SINCERE.

Victor Berger, of Wisconsin, Socialist, is dead. His passing removes a man of undoubted courage, of honest opinion and sincere candor in stating his views.

The United States of America may, or may not, adopt the views of Mr. Berger, but all of us can mourn his death. The nation has great need of independent thinking, and can hardly afford to lose any of his type.

Advertisers who have been waiting for good business to begin their campaign will now tell you that business is going to be all right without much advertising. You have to get up early to get any money out of a man who knows that advertising is throwing it away.

Here's How

BY E. W. HOWE
"The Sage of Potato Hill"
THE POOR—NAPOLEON—WOMEN AGAIN

I often think the poor are like children who have never grown up. It is a common charge against a certain proportion of adults (far too large) that they have children's minds; that their bodies develop after twelve, while their minds did not.

The poor may be likened, also, to a man who has worked at a trade all his life, and never learned it. Life is a trade, with foremen and superintendents of superior skill because of experience or intelligence.

Napoleon never cared much if his wives had lovers. . . . But it makes a common man mighty mad.

For more than hundred years there have been attempts to explain Napoleon Bonaparte. . . . I can explain him in half a dozen times; in the dirt of love, passion, life, he picked up at birth marvelous genius as a soldier—as Charles Dickens picked up marvelous genius as a novelist. As age advanced, both men lost their power; youth was a part of their marvelous combination, and, without it, both said and did things that would have disgraced the commonest fool.

I say to you that hereditry is the greatest thing in life. If you are not doing well, either you are wrongly placed or are not behaving yourself in the ordinary essentials.

It is frequently said there has not been, in all history, a woman more correct and candid thinking, as may be said of hundreds of men.

What does this mean? Certainly not that women do not engage deeply in life, and thereby gain sufficient knowledge to become reflective. Does it mean that women, in private and print, refuse to acknowledge the facts of life? I have known less than a dozen really candid women; I have rarely known a man of average intelligence who was not. This difference cannot be accounted for by sex. The brains of men and women must average about the same.

It may be a poor guess, but I believe, the difference due to this: Since the dawn of civilization certainly and possibly somewhat earlier, women have been flattered; that has been man's weapon in soliciting their favors; on the other hand, men have perpetually traveled the war path, and known the truth about themselves. Men are actually better than the public estimate of them, for libels told by opposing warriors have come down to us with history, along with the exaggerated compliments for women. There is no page of print, old or new, not overpraising women and criticising men more than they deserve.

Men are candid, and become philosophers occasionally, because long experience has convinced them of the practical value of truth; women, who never become philosophers, still believe truth distorted in the interest of women, may be of value to them.

Candid thinking seems to have paid the men: of the things in life said to be great, the men have as great a least, almost as in philosophy.

Would candid thinking pay the women?

I do not know. It may be that their best plan is the one they have adopted even though there is not philosophy in it.

FASHION DECREES NEW SHORT COATS

Styles This Fall Will Be a Fraction, Used Like a Sweater.

By Barbara Beaufort.

Paris, August 14.—The new coats and suit coats involve fractions.

They are developed in three-quarter lengths, particularly in the tweed. Many fabric fur coats are several inches short of the hemline.

Only motor and utilitarian sport costumes retain the hem-long coat length. Motor styles have long tweed coats over tweed skirts, and most of the double breasted coats are belted in the fashion of trench coats.

For sports wear some of the newest tweed costumes have waist-coats meant to take the place of an extra sweater worn under the suit coat. Some sports houses here favor three-quarter coats for sport suits of tweed (but the majority still show the shorter jacket, close to a finger tip length).

Much black and white tweed is being shown despite its long run of popularity. There are also dark blue and white mixtures. Dark browns and fawn beige tones are as good as ever for the classic tweed sport suit.

The yellow note, sounded so long and insistently in summer sport styles has largely disappeared in the autumn models.

170 NEW CARS FOR EVERY MILE HIGHWAY BUILT DURING 1928

Washington, Aug. 17.—There were approximately 170 new motor vehicles registered in 1928 for every mile of highway constructed on the Federal-Aid system of important interstate highways and 33 of every mile of road surfaced throughout the nation. This statement was issued today by national headquarters of the American Automobile Association, which has petitioned Congress for an increase in annual appropriation for federal aid from the present amount of $75,000,000.

The estimate of the national motor body is based on an increase in motor vehicle registrations of 1,395,883 in 1928, with approximately 8,000 miles of highways built on the Federal-Aid system and 36,000 miles surfaced throughout the country.

"The fact that road-building agencies are unable to keep pace with the gain in motor vehicle registrations offers an unanswerable argument for speeding up the construction of highways," declared Thos. P. Henry, president of the national motor body, and deserves the immediate attention of the legislative branch of the government.

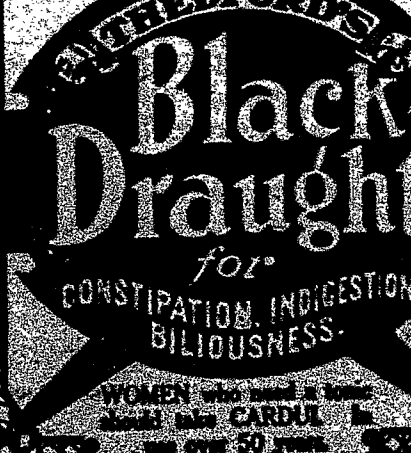

"While it is true that the government's participation in highway building through the medium of federal-aid has given a great impetus to the construction of roads, it is nevertheless also true that Uncle Sam has not borne a fair share of the cost. Up to the present time, the federal government has invested about fifty cents per year for every man, woman and child. In the meantime, the government collected millions of dollars in the form of an emfwmymfwm vehicles which far overshadowed the amount of money expended."

The A. A. A. president asserted that in 1928 the nation's road building bill was $1,500,000,000 of which the government contributed only $75,000,000 despite the advantages accruing to federal agencies, aside from those to the public.

WHEN CHILDREN Need a Laxative

"We have used Theodor's Black-Draught in our family for nineteen years. I have found it of great help in raising my family. I have given it to all six of my children. Whenever they complain of upset stomach, or begin to look pale and sickly, I make a tea of Black-Draught and begin giving it to them. In a day or two they are all right. I give it to them for constipation, and my husband and I both take it. I always give it for colds in winter, for I believe a way to prevent them is to keep the system clean."

Kansas City, Aug. 13.—St. Louis and San Francisco engine No. 4113, world's endurance record holder, today ended a 25-day, 7,350-mile run with the engine still reported in good condition. The old record was 3,500 miles.

The fire never was drawn, the boilers washed, or repairs made during the 25 days, the locomotive pulled freight and passenger trains from Kansas City and Birmingham.

Officials here from St. Louis today said the endurance run would have been continued except for a United States Department of Commerce regulation. The ruling provides that all locomotives shall undergo federal inspection and be placed in a shop every 30 days.

Remember Steddon, a pretty, unsophisticated girl, is the daughter of a kindly but narrow-minded minister in a small mid-western town. Her father.

Rev. Doctor Steddon, violently opposed to what he considers "immoral" things, accepts motion pictures of the cause for much of the evil of the present day. Troubled with a cough, Remember goes to see

Dr. Bretherick, an elderly physician, who is astonished at the plight in which he sees her. Pressed by the doctor, Remember admits her unfortunate affair with

Elwood Rarnaby, a poor boy, son of the town squire. As Remember and Dr. Bretherick discuss the problem, a telephone message brings the news that Elwood has been killed in an accident. Dr. Bretherick accordingly persuades Remember to go West, her cough serving as a plausible excuse; to write home of meeting and marrying a pretended suitor ("Mr. Woodville") and leave to write her parents announcing her expected child. Unable alone to bear her secret, Remember goes to her mother with

Her mother agrees with the plan of the doctor. Mem leaves town. On the train Mem accidentally meets Tom Holby, movie star, traveling with Robina Teale, leading lady in the movies who are the cynosure of all eyes. The train comes to an abrupt halt, a disaster having been narrowly avoided, and the passengers get out and walk about.

At Tucson Mem meets Dr. Galbraith, a pastor, who knows her father and takes an interest in her. She meets Tom Holby "Mr. Woodville" in order to make her fiancé's suit seem more real. While the Galbraiths are away, she writes them as if her parents that she has married "Mr. Woodville" and that they are to live in Yuma—for which place she buys a ticket.

At her boarding house in Yuma, she met an old man who told her of his partner of prospecting days—the name Woodville reminded him of his friend's, which was Woodward "or something like that," as he remembered it—and how he had died in the desert.

His story offered her the way, possibly, to get rid of "Mr. Woodville." She would take him into the desert and let him "die" of thirst.

She had found the way to be rid of her husband for the satisfaction of her people.

Now if she could only find a way to be rid of herself.

And that way came to her before the long day had burned itself away, for the dining room waitresses talking in the hearing room below as they set the table for supper.

"Who was that letter you got, from? some feller?"

"Nah. It was from a lady up to Palm Springs, askin' me was I comin' back up there this season?"

"Are you?"

"Nah! Too quiet for me. Yuma ain't no merry-go-round, but Palm Springs—my Gawd! It's just a little spot of shadder in the desert."

"This lady offer you a job?"

"Yes. She's on her knees to me. Mrs. Randles her name is. Husband's got a ranch. How'd you like to go there and take the job?"

The other voice, moaned: Me? not much. I run away from home to get love and excitement!"

Mem had never heard of Palm Springs, but she was looking for just such a place. And a ranch! She

Mississippi Happenings

HOME AGAIN—

Ruth Spencer and Floyce Devereaux, Hattiesburg typewriter pounders, bored with life, sore because their parents refused them a week-end trip to Wiggins, started last week on a trip around the world. They carried a portable phonograph, a year's supply of cosmetics, $1 cents. A day later New Orleans cops nabbed them, sent them back to their typewriters.

HOT BISCUIT—

The W. P. Johnson's of Aberdeen sat down to dinner as usual a few days ago, munched as usual on light tasty biscuits. Unusual were their findings a few minutes later when arsenic, put by mistake in the flour can, began to have its effect. Came doctors, gave doses, declared danger past.

ICE WATER—

Men who help pay for no ice should expect to drink no ice water—thus reasoned recently one John Jordan of Foulke, when Will Smith started to drink. When Will insisted that his thirst be quenched John used a knife to enforce his idea of the matter. Will went to a hospital, nearly dead.

MERIDIAN'S MYSTERY—

Meridian's police still struggled last week to solve the problem of who attempted to hang Sam Reilly, found recently in a daze on a bridge near the city. In Sam's throat was a knife wound, about his neck a noose which appeared to have been used by a rope.

GIFT FOR OLE MISS—

Aged Isom Walker tottered across the Ole Miss campus last week, in his hand a paper cutter fantastically carved from a crooked stick into the shape of a monkey. To the history department he gave the cutter, fashioned and for long years used by L. Q. C. Lamar, for whom Isom once worked.

STEPPED ON IT—

Finding a burglar in your room is bad enough, but having that burglar chase you out of your own house is embarrassing indeed. Hotly chased last week, was Price James of Greenwood, when he stepped on a negro's ankle as he started to climb in bed, was forthwith forced to flee.

FELL IN—

Mrs. Zoa James strolled about a vacant lot near Philadelphia, suddenly disappeared from sight. Feebly came calls for help. Soon came kind men with ropes and poles, and pulled her from the abandoned well into which she had dropped.

LOVE VS. LAW—

When Giovanni arrived in Gulfport last week aboard the Italian steamship Valdrossa he found a letter announcing the birth of a daughter to his wife in St. Louis. Giovanni immediately deserted his ship, was soon captured, brought back "locked" up aboard. Two nights later he broke prison, fled, eluded immigration officers, is thought to have reached St. Louis safely.

FOREIGN FIELDS—

Far away for long-term service have this month gone youthful Misissippians. To Korea on a five-year non-furlough contract went last week newlywed E. B. Emmerich and wife of McComb for missionary work. A few days earlier sailed Miss Juanita Byrd of Mount Olive to teach English for six years in Shanghai College.

SUPERVISES—

President of boards of supervisors in two Mississippi counties has been Thos. W. Carraway of Bassfield. When Jeff Davis county was formed from part of Covington, Carraway was board president. Because he lived in the new county, he became president there, left the Covington post to another.

ALEX SMITH GIVES NEW GOLF RULES

Noted "Pro" Tells How To Play Golf and Keep Healthy.

Alex Smith, none other than the far-famed "pro" who teaches people how to play golf at the Westchester-Biltmore Country Club, has taken time out to teach them how to live golf. On the boards of the club house locker room he has posted a brief but pointed advice to golfers who want to play the game, and yet value their health.

To those who tread the fairways in these "dog days," he issues this warning: "You can't keep a cool brain under a hot head—the wise golfer wears a cool hat on the links to prevent: "Sun stroke, heat prostration, sized scalp, high blood pressure, high scores, low vitality, eye strain and straw-like hair."

Explaining the reason for posting the notice, in an interview, Alex Smith enlarged upon his health rules for golfers. In addition to the hat warning, he advises against a heavy luncheon, before going on the course, against stimulants, either before or after game, and against a thirty-six hole day for tired business men.

"Golf can be harmful or beneficial to the health, depending upon the habits of the golfers," said Mr. Smith. "A strenuous week-end of golf, with thirty-six holes on Saturday and thirty-six more on Sunday, is absolutely inadvisable for a man who works at a desk all week. His blood pressure is adjusted to a sedentary life and the strain of such a week-end is more than he can stand."

"In the same way, I'd advise no one to go on the links after a heavy luncheon. Strenuous exercise after eating hinders the digestion. A light lunch of milk and crackers, and possibly a dish of fruit or flavored gelatin is plenty of food before the afternoon game."

"Then there is the matter of that little cocktail or two before and after the game. I'd advise cutting those out, and tea and coffee, along with them. Stimulants shorten the wind. A man can play a better game without them. Moreover, for those interested in their health, stimulants counteract any benefits to be derived from the exercise."

As professional of the Westchester-Biltmore, advises on matter of health are not strictly within Alex Smith's line of duty. He believes, however, that good health helps make a good golfer.—Clarksdale Daily Register.

CONVENTION DATE IS SET

Order of King's Daughters And Sons to Meet At Louisville, Miss., October 22-24.

The dates for the state convention of the International Order of King's Daughters and Sons were announced in Gulfport by the state president, Mrs. Phil C. Harding. This convention will be held in Louisville, Miss., convening the night of October 22 and continuing through October 23 and 24.

Mrs. Harding paid a visit to Louisville last week and held conferences with the hostess circle and arrangements were completed for the convention sessions at the new city auditorium. A number of social courtesies will be extended the delegates. Mrs. Harding is engaged in working out the program for the state meet on which will appear a number of women from all parts of Mississippi who are prominent in King's Daughters and Sons work, among these being Mrs. S. R. Guice of Greenville, former state president of the organization. Reports from the circles will be features of the convention. Several projects of interest will be presented to the state meeting including announcements of new hospitals and other constructive work of a permanent character, Mrs. Harding said.

The establishment in Mississippi of a scholarship for training in leadership at the school at Chataqua, N. Y., maintained by the organization, is a leading administration project, Mrs. Harding said. Miss Grace Lee Hart of Meridian was recently named state chairman of this work. "The scholarship, when established, will be named in all probability in memory of the late Mrs. Minnie (J. M.) Gillespie of Greenwood, in compliment to her wonderful work for the order," Mrs. Harding said.

On a recent official visit to Meridian, Mrs. Harding completed the formation of a second senior circle there to be known as the Goodwill Service Circle, this giving Meridian its fourth circle, two senior and two junior circles now being in operation. She conferred with women at Philadelphia in reference to the establishment of a circle there and thinks such an organization will be formed in the near future.—Gulfport Herald.

STATE GETTING FREED OF TICKS

In Twelve South Mississippi Counties Not A Single Tick Is Found.

Mississippi is getting rid of cattle ticks.

In twelve South Mississippi counties now under quarantine, not a ticky cow was found, while in five other counties only one infected herd was found in each, according to a fully monthly progress report of the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry, co-operating with the Mississippi Livestock Sanitary Board.

Although the immense total of 262,889 cattle in 50,211 herds were inspected or dipped in the 23 quarantined counties in the south of the state, only 27 infested herds were found, the report shows, in the open range class. Of quarantined herds held for systematic work, where 112,762 cattle were inspected, only 123 infested cattle were located.

The 12 counties where no ticky cattle were found, outside the quarantined herds, were Amite, Clarke, Greene, Harrison, Jasper, Jeff Davis, Lawrence, Marion, Simpson, Smith, Walhalla and Wayne. The two counties in which quarantined herds showed infestation were Greene, where 6 herds had 36 ticky cattle, and Smith, where 36 ticky animals were in one herd.

The five counties showing but one infested herd each were Covington, Hancock, Lamar, Pike and Stone. In only one of these, Lamar, do there remain quarantined herds, six herds showing 40 ticky cattle there.

In the other affected counties, the number of ticky herds and number of ticky cattle found in each shows: Forrest 5, 7; George 2, 2; Jackson 3, 3; Jones 6, 6; Pearl River 3, 3; Perry 3, 3.

That there is still danger of re-infestation from other animals is indicated, however, in the report of ticky horses and mules, which shows that but six counties were entirely free of ticky animals. In all the others, some ticks were found on horses or mules, although the general infestation is not heavy.

Trappers Are Paid.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 15.—The claims of fur trappers for damages done by the Caernarvon crevasse during the 1927 flood had been settled in full today with the authorized payment of $225,000 by the Orleans-Live Board to the Acme Land and Fur Company.

CURVES TO BE ELIMINATED AT GENTILLY BRIDGE

New Orleans, Aug. 10.—Dangerous curves will be done away with and adjacent property beautified at the juncture of the Gentilly Bridge here with its approaches. The necessary work to improve the section was authorized recently by the dock board, co-incidentally with the granting of a 110-foot right-of-way through the property to the Louisiana Highway Commission. A new 70-foot concrete pavement, with 20-foot shoulders will be constructed, sidewalks will be laid, lights installed, trees and shrubbery planted, and two right angle turns eliminated.

SALE OF ARMY "JUNK" NETS LARGE RETURNS

Washington, Aug. 14.—The United States army is one of the world's biggest old-bones-bottles-and-ragsmen.

More than $34,000,000 has been returned to the United States treasury from salvage sales in the last 10 years. The army's junk heap is enormous. The money comes from the sale of old metals, rubber, rags, bottles, hair, hides, and bones. Last year the sale of dead animals alone amounted to $17,769.16.
